

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

The American Law Register,

A MONTHLY NATIONAL JOURNAL,

DEVOTED TO THE WANTS AND INTERESTS OF THE LEGAL PROFESSION.

THE AMERICAN LAW REGISTER, now in its thirty-fourth year, still maintains the character for solid ability which has given it, especially since the commencement of the New Series, twenty-four years ago, a popularity and a circulation never equalled by any other American professional magazine.

Being strictly and exclusively devoted to professional topics, of practical value, no pains or expense will be spared to render it a truly NATIONAL LAW JOURNAL.

Each number contains in general one or more short essays on Legal subjects, of immediate and practical interest; a collection of recent American cases in the Federal and State courts in full; recent English cases; notes or abstracts of cases containing new points; miscellaneous legal information, and lists of new law books. The opinions are published in full (except in special instances where the fact of condensation is always carefully noted), and every precaution taken to make them as accurate and reliable as the regular reports. In this connection the publishers call attention to the fact that the past volumes of the Law Register are cited as authority by all the courts of the country. The large and efficient staff of editors, and the arrangements with judges, reporters and eminent professional gentlemen in all parts of the Union, are such as to afford a guarantee that the most important decisions of the Supreme Courts of the several States, as well as the Federal courts, are obtained and published soon after they are delivered, and long before they can be elsewhere reported. The most important decisions are carefully annotated with references to the English and American authorities, making each volume of the Register a collection of LEADING CASES similar and, as it were, supplementary to the works of Smith and others, which have proved so valuable and so popular with the profession.

In addition to these cases, reported in full, each number contains a digest of recent decisions of the Supreme Courts of the United States and the several States, furnished by the reporters or the judges, and printed long in advance of the publication of the volumes of Reports. These abstracts, therefore, not only give the profession the earliest possible notice of the decisions of the various courts, but at the end of the volume, when they are accurately and exhaustively indexed, form a most valuable digest of recent law.

The Law Register is published monthly, in octavo form, each number containing not less than sixty-four pages, making, with the full and exhaustive index, a volume of over eight hundred pages annually.

Terms—Five Dollars per Annum, in Advance.

Complete sets of back volumes can be furnished at any time. Price, by the set, FIVE DOLLARS per volume. Single volumes or broken lots, SIX DOLLARS per volume. Bound in full law sheep. Subscribers are requested to make remittances by Post-Office order, or draft, if convenient.

Contributions of decisions, etc., from judges and others, are respectfully solicited, and, where convenient, it is requested that the briefs or paper-books of counsel shall accompany the opinions.

D. B. CANFIELD & CO.,

NO. 229 SOUTH SIXTH STREET,

 Lock Box 973.

PHILADELPHIA.

CASES SUMMARILY DISPOSED OF ON MOTION
IN THE
SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

By CHARLES H. ARMES, Esq.,
OF THE SUPREME COURT BAR.

The only book devoted exclusively to this branch of practice.

The number of cases disposed of summarily by the Supreme Court thus far during the October Term of 1885, is greater than during any similar period in the history of the Court. The above book contains precedents upon all questions adjudicated upon motions, with a full and complete Index referring to subjects by such a variety of legal terms and phrases as to be of great service to the profession. Cases in large numbers encumber the docket of the Supreme Court for years which might be disposed of at any time by a MOTION to AFFIRM THE JUDGMENT below or to DISMISS THE CASE—as will be seen by reference to the numerous decisions contained in this volume. Price, $3.00 net; postpaid, $3.20.

“You have brought together, compactly, a great many very important Practice cases. I did not realize, until I looked the book over, how much of our practice has been settled on motions.” CHIEF JUSTICE WAITE. Washington, D. C., February 26, 1886.

WILLIAMS ON REAL PROPERTY.

Text-Book in almost every Law School in the Country. New edition just published. 1 Vol. 8vo. $5.00. Principles of the Law of Real Property; intended as a first book for students in Conveyancing. By JOSHUA WILLIAMS, Esq., of Lincoln's Inn.

Sixth American edition with the Notes of WM. H. RAWLE and HON. JAMES T. MITCHELL, and additional notes and references by E. COPPÉE MITCHELL, LL.D., Lecturer on the Law of Real Estate, Conveyancing, etc., University of Pennsylvania. Of this well-known work it is not necessary to say more than that Mr. WILLIAMS (who has achieved the highest reputation as a law writer), and the able American editors, have made it “the best introduction to the Law of Real Property ever written.”

“I am glad to see that the notes are brief and on judiciously selected matters.” JOHN C. GRAY, Boston University Law School, January 27th, 1886.

“The changes made in the present edition materially increase its value to the American student.” HENRY WADE ROGERS, University of Michigan, January 30th, 1886.

“The book is a great improvement on the last two or three editions, which were burdened with recent English statutes of local importance only. I have read Prof. MITCHELL's prefatory remarks, and fully concur therein. I shall hereafter particularly recommend this last edition.” C. A. GRAVES, Professor of Civ. and Stat. Law and Equity Jurisprudence, Washington and Lee University, Feb 22, 1886.

RALSTON ON THE DISCHARGE OF CONTRACTS.

The Principles of the Law relating to the Discharge of Contracts. By ROBERT RALSTON, of the Philadelphia Bar. 1 Vol. 8vo. Half sheep, $1.00.

“It is well arranged and has been carefully compiled and edited.” Pittsburgh Legal Journal, February 17, 1886.

“The author has taken a broad subject which it would be difficult to do justice to in so small a compass. His work appears to us to be an intelligent and useful outline.” New York Daily Register, February 13, 1886.

“It appears to be concise, clear, and, so far as I have observed, accurate.” M. D. EWELL, Union College of Law, Chicago, Ill., February 15, 1886.

“The subject is handled in a clear, concise, and comprehensive manner, which will render the work highly useful to the profession and to students alike.” H. A. MORRILL, Professor in Law School of Cincinnati College.

T. & J. W. JOHNSON & CO., 535 Chestnut St., Phila.